AFTERNOON WORKSHOP

TUESDAY AFTERNOON
Ages 5-8YO

with Taryn Urushido

@tarynurushido

Taryn's aesthetic is heavily influenced by both the Arizona desert landscape of her childhood and natural materials, dyes, and organic processes.

Crochet was first introduced to Taryn at age 7, mentored by a 70 year old crochet and craft artist at the afterschool daycare. First learning granny squares made of scrap yarns, Taryn quickly became interested in different materials, shapes and forms.

Taryn teaches workshops to students of all ages through a visual language. Unlike textbook standards, she simultaneously teaches the form of the craft while guiding the free spirit that is at the tip of your fingers and hook.

In this class, multiple mediums will be used to support each child's creative process.

@thecollectivekind

Anna Caroline Tehan is a co-founder of Collective Kind and an Early Childhood Special Education + Montessori Certified + Anti-bias Early Education Leader. She brings 14Y experience as a creative arts & early childhood educator internationally and locally in underserved communities, classrooms and foster care settings.

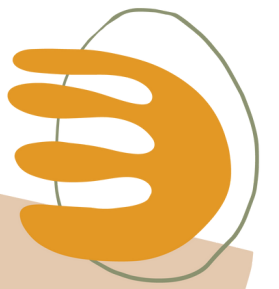

In 2019, Anna Caroline amplified her early childhood education experience in her role as Teacher Trainer with Learning Beautiful, an organization that trains educators in foundational computer science concepts.

With inspiration from tactile approaches, such as the Montessori Method, we will break down the fundamentals of computational thinking into a set of discrete concepts that children as young as 3 can explore with their hands.
